Subject: Leave Microsoft alone already!

Hello,

I think its time the Government moves onto other issues of much greater importance. Leave Microsoft alone. Its a great company. They run a great business and the cost of software has never been so inexpensive not to mention as powerful.

History has shown that every time the government breaks up a great company it falls apart. The railroads in this country are mess. Try to get a proposal to move freight it takes weeks and even longer once the freight moves.

Breaking up AT&T. What a mess.

I now get multiple phone bills and the cost has never been higher and in the near future, its a shame to say that there probably won't be an AT&T.

Please don't do us anymore favors. Let Microsoft continue as the Microsoft it is.

If our Justice Department needs work maybe they should be looking into Enron and what effect they had on manipulating the market and driving up prices a year ago. Also, investigate why the management of the company was selling their stock while being on TV contending the stock was undervalued.

Microsoft is only helping and protecting the consumers and all their shareholder.

Sincerely,
D.J.F.
